Attitude is Everything

Jerry was the kind of man you love to hate. He was always in a good mood and always had something positive to say. When someone would ask him how he was doing, he would reply, 'If I were any better, I would be twins.' He was a unique manager because he had several waiters who had followed him around from restaurant to restaurant. The reason his waiters followed Jerry was because of his attitude. He was would be a natural motivator. If an employee was having a bad day, Jerry would be there telling the employer to look on the positive side of the situation.

Seeing this style really made me curious, so one day I went up to Jerry and asked him. "I don't get it! You can't be a positive person all the time. How do you do it?" Jerry replied, "Each morning I wake up and say to myself, 'Jerry you have two choices today. You can choose to be in a good mood or you can choose to be in a bad mood.' I choose to be in a good mood. Each time something bad happens, I can choose to be a victim or I can choose to learn something from it. I choose to learn from it. Every time someone comes to me complaining, I can choose to accept their complaints or I can point out the positive side of life. I choose the positive side of life."

"Yeah, right, it's not that easy." "Yes, it is," Jerry said. "Life is all about choices. When you cut away all the junk, every situation is a choice. You choose how you react to situations. You choose how people will react to your mood. You choose to be in a good or bad mood. The bottom line, it's your choice how you live life." I reflected on what Jerry said. place. "The first thing that went through my mind was that I should have locked the back door," Jerry replied. "Then as I lay on the floor, I remembered that I had two choices. I could choose to die or I could choose to live. I chose to live." "Weren't you scared? Did you lose consciousness?" I asked.

Jerry continued, "The paramedics were great. They kept telling me I was going to be fine. But, when they wheeled me into the emergency room and I saw the expressions on the faces of the doctors and nurses, I got really scared. In their eyes, I read, 'He's a dead man.' I knew I had to take action." "What did you do?" I asked.

"Well, there was a big burly nurse shouting questions at me," said Jerry. "She asked if I was allergic to anything." "Yes," I replied. The doctors and nurses stopped working as they waited for my reply. I took a deep breath and yelled, "Bullets!" Over their laughter, I told them, "I am choosing to live. Operate on me as if I am alive, not dead."

Jerry lived thanks to the skills of his doctors, but also because of his amazing attitude. I learned from him that every day we have the choice to live fully. Attitude after all is everything.

Title: Report on Trip to Teluk Intan, Perak

We left the school at 7.00 a.m. and arrived at Teluk Intan at 8.45 a.m. We walked around the town and then made our way to the tower. There were information boards inside the tower displaying some historical facts. The leaning tower of Teluk Intan is the Malaysia equivalent of the world-famous Tower of Pisa in Italy. The 25.5 metre tower is slanted leftward and from outside, it looks like an 8-storey building. The tower was built in 1885 by Leong Choon Chong, a Chinese contractor and was originally used as a water tank. It is also used as a time keeper of the town. The building itself is made of bricks and wood. The reason for the leaning is because of the soft ground at the base of the tower and the weight of the water tank.
