

Gravitational Potential Energy

Gravitational potential energy is the work done to lift an object through a height, h above the surface of the Earth.

